Policies

Anti-bribery

Recorra Ltd – ANTI-BRIBERY POLICY

Introduction

One of Recorra's core values is to uphold responsible and fair business practices. We are committed to promoting and maintaining the highest level of ethical standards in relation to all of our business activities. Our reputation for maintaining lawful business practices is of paramount importance and this Policy is designed to preserve these values.

The Company therefore has a zero-tolerance policy towards bribery and corruption and is committed to acting fairly and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships and implementing and enforcing effective systems to counter bribery.

Purpose and scope of Policy

This Policy sets out the Company's position on any form of bribery and corruption and provides guidelines aimed at:

- ensuring compliance with anti-bribery laws, rules and regulations, not just within the UK but in any other country within which the Company may carry out its business or in relation to which its business may be connected
- enabling employees and persons associated with the Company to understand the risks associated with bribery and to encourage them to be vigilant and effectively recognise, prevent and report any wrongdoing, whether by themselves or others
- providing suitable and secure reporting and communication channels and ensuring that any information that is reported is properly and effectively dealt with
- creating and maintaining a rigorous and effective framework for dealing with any suspected instances of bribery or corruption

This Policy applies to all permanent and temporary employees of the Company (including any of its intermediaries, subsidiaries or associated companies). It also applies to any individual or corporate entity associated with the Company or who performs functions in relation to, or for and on behalf of, the Company, including, but not limited to, directors, agency workers, casual workers, contractors, consultants, seconded staff, agents, suppliers and sponsors ("associated persons"). All employees and associated persons are expected to adhere to the principles set out in this Policy.

Legal obligations

The UK legislation on which this Policy is based is the Bribery Act 2010 and it applies to the Company's conduct both in the UK and abroad. A bribe is an inducement or reward offered, promised or provided in order to gain any commercial, contractual, regulatory or personal advantage.

It is an offence in the UK to:

- offer, promise or give a financial or other advantage to another person (i.e. bribe a person), whether within the UK or abroad, with the intention of inducing or rewarding improper conduct
- request, agree to receive or accept a financial or other advantage (i.e. receive a bribe) for or in relation to improper conduct
- bribe a foreign public official

You can be held personally liable for any such offence.

Policies

Anti-bribery

It is also an offence in the UK for an employee or an associated person to bribe another person in the course of doing business intending either to obtain or retain business, or to obtain or retain an advantage in the conduct of business, for the Company. The Company can be liable for this offence where it has failed to prevent such bribery by associated persons. As well as an unlimited fine, it could suffer substantial reputational damage.

Policy statement

All employees and associated persons are required to:

- comply with any anti-bribery and anti-corruption legislation that applies in any jurisdiction in any part of the world in which they might be expected to conduct business
- act honestly, responsibly and with integrity
- safeguard and uphold the Company's core values by operating in an ethical, professional and lawful manner at all times

Bribery of any kind is strictly prohibited. Under no circumstances should any provision be made, money set aside or accounts created for the purposes of facilitating the payment or receipt of a bribe.

The Company recognises that industry practices may vary from country to country or from culture to culture. What is considered unacceptable in one place may be normal or usual practice in another. Nevertheless, a strict adherence to the guidelines set out in this Policy is expected of all employees and associated persons, at all times. If in doubt as to what might amount to bribery or what might constitute a breach of this Policy, refer the matter to your line manager or to a Director.

For the Company's rules and procedures in relation to the receipt of business gifts from third parties and corporate hospitality offered to or received from third parties, please refer to the Company's Employee Handbook. This forms part of the Company's zero tolerance policy towards bribery and they should be read in conjunction with this Policy.

The giving of business gifts to clients, customers, contractors and suppliers is not prohibited provided the following requirements are met:

- the gift is not made with the intention of influencing a third party to obtain or retain business or a business advantage, or to reward the provision or retention of business or a business advantage
- it complies with local laws
- it is given in the Company's name, not in the giver's personal name
- it does not include cash or a cash equivalent (such as gift vouchers)
- it is of an appropriate and reasonable type and value and given at an appropriate time
- it is given openly, not secretly
- it is approved in advance by a director of the Company

In summary, it is not acceptable to give, promise to give, or offer, a payment, gift or hospitality with the expectation or hope that a business advantage will be received, or to reward a business advantage already given, or to accept a payment, gift or hospitality from a third party that you know or suspect is offered or provided with the expectation that it will obtain a business advantage for them.

Any payment or gift to a public official or other person to secure or accelerate the prompt or proper performance of a routine government procedure or process, otherwise known as a "facilitation payment", is also strictly prohibited. Facilitation payments are not commonly paid in the UK but they are common in some other jurisdictions.

Policies

Anti-bribery

Responsibilities and reporting procedure

It is the contractual duty and responsibility of all employees and associated persons to take whatever reasonable steps are necessary to ensure compliance with this Policy and to prevent, detect and report any suspected bribery or corruption. You must immediately disclose to the Company any knowledge or suspicion you may have that you, or any other employee or associated person, has plans to offer, promise or give a bribe or to request, agree to receive or accept a bribe in connection with the business of the Company. For the avoidance of doubt, this includes reporting your own wrongdoing. The duty to prevent, detect and report any incident of bribery and any potential risks rests not only with the directors of the Company but equally to all employees and associated persons.

The Company is committed to taking appropriate action against bribery and corruption. This could include either reporting the matter to an appropriate external government department, regulatory agency or the police and/or taking internal disciplinary action against relevant employees and/or terminating contracts with associated persons.

The Company will support anyone who raises genuine concerns in good faith under this Policy, even if they turn out to be mistaken. It is also committed to ensuring nobody suffers any detrimental treatment as a result of refusing to take part in bribery or corruption, or because of reporting in good faith their suspicion that an actual or potential bribery or corruption offence has taken place or may take place in the future.

Record keeping

All accounts, receipts, invoices and other documents and records relating to dealings with third parties must be prepared and maintained with strict accuracy and completeness. No accounts must be kept "off the record" to facilitate or conceal improper payments.

Sanctions for breach

A breach of any of the provisions of this Policy will constitute a disciplinary offence and will be dealt with in accordance with the Company's disciplinary procedure. Depending on the gravity of the offence, it may be treated as gross misconduct and could render the employee liable to summary dismissal.

As far as associated persons are concerned, a breach of this Policy could lead to the suspension or termination of any relevant contract, sub-contract or other agreement.

Training

The Company will provide training to all employees to help them understand their duties and responsibilities under this Policy. The Company's zero tolerance approach to bribery will also be communicated to all business partners at the outset of the business relationship with them and as appropriate thereafter.

This policy will be reviewed on an annual basis.

Corporate Social Responsibility

Recorra Ltd – CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY POLICY

Recorra was founded by Friends of the Earth in 1988, specifically to provide high quality environmental services to offices in London. We have kept this focus on meeting the highest environmental standards as we have grown, to offer a complete spectrum of services; however, the fact that we help businesses become more sustainable, does not mean that we are exempt from having environmental and social impacts.

Our Corporate Social Responsibility strategy focuses on 4 cornerstones:

- The use of resources: We aim to understand our resource use in our buildings and transport fleet and reduce our carbon footprint where possible.
- Our customers: As a provider of sustainability services, helping our customers to become more sustainable is our absolute priority.
- Our employees: A committed and motivated workforce is key to ensure our success.
- Giving back to our community: We strongly believe that we should have a positive impact on the communities we engage with.

The use of resources:

Best practice environmental standards are fundamental to Recorra operations. We are conscious of the environmental impact of our own activities and fully support the belief that each of us has a responsibility to protect the environment and human health. We maintain an Environmental Management System certified to ISO 14001 and are audited annually by a UKAS approved third party audit body.

Recorra has calculated its carbon footprint since 2009 and the results of our analysis are published on our website. We are committed to continuous improvement and regularly monitor our environmental objectives. Previously, we have:

- Implemented and improved carbon footprint data collection and monitoring system and formal energy reduction procedures
- Trialled new energy saving technologies (including SMART meters, Voltage Optimization management device, PIR sensors and timers)
- Trained all our drivers in eco-driving techniques combined with the use of a telematic driver monitoring system
- Removed surplus lighting in office and warehouse and installation of motion detection lighting
- Reconfigured and upgraded the equipment at our Materials Recycling Facility. This has had a significant impact on our ability to extract more materials for recycling, thus reducing the amount of waste

Our current objectives to ensure continuous improvement include:

- Our staff are passionate about environmental issues. Our active Sustainability Wellness Action Group runs internal training and events for other staff and ensures that we achieve the targets set out in our action plan.
- By 2030 to transition 10% of fleet to electric vehicles to replace our diesel vehicles

Policies

Corporate Social Responsibility

- A Science Based Target to reduce our emissions in line with a 2 degree warming , (scope 1 and scope 2 GHG emissions 30 % by 2030 from a 2018 base year, and to measure and reduce its scope 3 emissions)

Our customers:

It is Recorra's aim to provide a consistent, high quality service which meets the requirements and expectations of our customers at all times. This commitment to quality is based on the implementation of a Quality Management System which is certified to ISO 9001 and audited annually by a UKAS approved third party audit body. This system provides clear standards and guidelines for all areas of the company's activities. The Directors, Senior Management Team and all employees of Recorra are fully committed to a process of continuous improvement in all our products and services. We monitor customer satisfaction and service performance through defined KPIs and objectives.

We provide a wide range of added value services including launch days, seminars, waste management reports, waste audits and volunteering opportunities with our charity partners. We also aim to provide customers with a recycling option for all their waste. We have recently introduced a compostable waste stream and a SustainABLE box to collect hard-to-recycle items, in line with this objective.

Our employees:

As a service provider, our employees are our most valued asset. Recorra's Senior Management Team recognises that a passionate, motivated and happy workforce is paramount to our success, and in order to achieve this, has set out a number of areas for investing in our people:

- Learning and development – As an employer, we seek to ensure equality of opportunity and treatment in the recruitment, selection, retention, training and promotion of staff at all levels, and the adoption of flexible patterns of working.
- Rewards and team building - Each line manager has an annual budget available to spend on team building activities for staff. Rewards are available for employees who do well (outside of their normal performance related pay). Social events for the whole organisation are organised across all Recorra sites.
- Internal marketing, communications and engagement – Internal staff updates are presented on a regular basis by Company Directors along with quarterly staff newsletters and HR emails circulated by line managers. We carry out an annual staff survey which is anonymous and provides an opportunity for staff to be honest about how they feel about the company and their work-life balance. We take action points from the survey and these are implemented by the Senior Management Team over the course of the following year.

Giving back to our community:

At Recorra, a commitment to charity is part of who we are, not just what we do. We run a substantial annual program of donations to environmental charities and have donated over

Environmental

Recorra Ltd – ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Mission statement

Recorra provides a range of services that help our customers operate to the highest environmental standards by reducing the environmental impact of their waste and the office supplies they buy. We understand that we have a responsibility to help protect the environment, including prevention of pollution and sustainable resource use. Environmental performance is integral to our business strategy; our aims are reviewed regularly, and we encourage our customers, suppliers and other stakeholders to do the same.

Our policy aims for the next 12 months are to:

- Comply with our legal and statutory responsibilities and other best practice requirements of professional bodies
- Continually improve and monitor environmental performance
- Continually improve and reduce environmental impacts
- A Science Based Target to reduce our emissions in line with 2 degrees of warming , (scope 1 and scope 2 GHG emissions 30 % by 2030 from a 2018 base year, and to measure and reduce scope 3 emissions)
- Incorporate environmental factors into business decisions
- Increase employee awareness in environmental best practice

We maintain and continually improve an Environmental Management System aligned with ISO 14001 and support the principles of ISO 9001, including risk-based thinking and continual improvement.

This will be achieved, in part, by a focus on three key areas. We will:

Reduce fuel consumption and carbon emissions

- Reduce the environmental impact of our fleet by running trials of new technologies and seeking enhancements in efficiency wherever possible
- By 2030 to transition 10% of fleet to electric vehicles to replace our diesel vehicles
- By 2030, reduce fleet emissions intensity by 50% versus a baseline of 2019
- Only use renewable electricity sourced from solar power, wind power, hydroelectric power and biofuels, so our electricity consumption is carbon neutral
- Establish a reduction target for energy consumption per site by 2027

Customers' waste and recycling

- Continue investing in the equipment at our Materials Recycling Facility to improve material sorting and reduce residual waste outfall
- Work with customers to reduce non-target materials in their recycling. This will improve their recycling rates and in turn will also improve our MRF recovery rate
- Actively promote recycling and carbon reduction to our customers, suppliers and the wider community by delivering free seminars and knowledge swaps on sustainability topics

Policies

Environmental

- Work to improve the quality, accuracy and consistency of the sustainability data we report and mirror mandatory GHG reporting requirements

Increase employee awareness in environmental best practice

- Raise awareness internally through our Sustainability and Wellness Action Group; educating staff at all our sites so they understand the link between our business activities and their environmental impact
- Continue to train all drivers to improve fuel efficiency and introduce incentives to maintain gains in these targets and reduce the carbon intensity of our fleet operations

We communicate our Environmental Policy to customers and suppliers via our website, so that it is available to all stakeholders.

This policy is reviewed on an annual basis by our management team.

Equal Opportunities

Recorra Ltd – EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES POLICY

Our Commitment

We are committed to the achievement of equal opportunities; this is central to our mission.

We recognise and accept our responsibilities under the Equality Act 2010. It is unlawful to discriminate directly or indirectly in recruitment or employment because of any of the nine "protected characteristics" as defined by the Act. These are: age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, and sexual orientation.

We also recognise that the Equality Act 2010 makes it unlawful for staff to discriminate directly or indirectly or harass customers or clients because of the protected characteristics of disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, and sexual orientation in the provision of goods and services. Although discrimination in goods and services because of age is not yet covered by the Equality Act 2010, Recorra includes it as a matter of good practice.

- We believe discrimination, either direct or indirect as defined in law, is unacceptable and we will not tolerate it.
- We will not tolerate discrimination or harassment against an individual because they are associated with another individual who has a protected characteristic.
- We will not tolerate discrimination or harassment against an individual on a perception that he or she has a particular protected characteristic.
- We will not tolerate discrimination or harassment of any of our employees by third parties such as clients or customers.
- We will not tolerate the victimisation of any employee because he or she made or supported a complaint or raised a grievance under the Equality Act 2010, or because he or she is suspected of doing so, or being about to do so.

However, our policy is not limited to the minimum standards imposed by the law. We are committed to achieve best practice in the area of equal opportunities. Everyone who is or who seeks to be a member of staff or volunteer of Recorra is entitled to receive equality of opportunity and treatment that is appropriate and fair irrespective of:

- age
- colour
- disablement
- marital status
- race/ethnicity
- religion
- sex
- gender
- employment status
- sexual orientation
- nationality
- caring responsibility

Policies

Equal Opportunities

- socio-economic status
- other unjustifiable factors

This list is not exhaustive.

We will be proactive in all matters relating to equality of opportunity and diversity. We value and will celebrate the richness brought to our organisation by a diverse population, both of staff and clients. We recognise and will seek to reflect the positive contributions brought to Recorra by the variety of its staff and volunteers.

We are committed to:

- Creating an environment in which individual differences and the contributions of all our staff are recognised and valued.
- Every employee is entitled to a working environment that promotes dignity and respect to all. No form of intimidation, victimisation, bullying or harassment will be tolerated.
- Training, development and progression opportunities are available to all staff.
- Equality in the workplace is good management practice and makes sound business sense.
- We will review all our employment practices and procedures to ensure fairness.
- Breaches of our equality policy will be regarded as misconduct and could lead to disciplinary proceedings.
- This policy is fully supported by senior management.
- The policy will be monitored and reviewed annually.
- We will implement the intentions in this policy via an annual action plan.

We also recognise that the behaviours through which diversity is evident must be consistent with the values that underpin this policy document.

Additionally, we recognise that despite our best intentions circumstances may arise where we fail to provide an appropriate and professional service to people, consistent with the aims of this policy. We are committed to take action in such circumstances.

Purpose of the Policy

The aim of the policy is to ensure:

- fair recruitment and selection
- equal access to training opportunities
- equitable terms and conditions of employment
- appropriate provision of services for different sections of the community

Policies

Equal Opportunities

Scope of the Policy

Recorra seeks to ensure equality of opportunity and treatment in relation to all of its activities, both as an employer and as a service provider.

As an employer we will seek to ensure equality of opportunity and treatment in the recruitment, selection, retention, training and promotion of staff at all levels, and the adoption of flexible patterns of working. To this end we will develop personnel policies and practices that will demonstrate and further our commitment to Equal Opportunities.

Selection criteria and procedures will be designed, and outcomes monitored and reviewed, to ensure that staff are recruited and selected on the basis of their assessed merits and abilities when compared with the needs of Recorra. We will take care to ensure that applicants or potential applicants are not discouraged or disadvantaged by the adoption of any conditions or criteria which cannot be justified in terms of specific job requirements. Additionally, we will seek to attract, encourage and welcome applications from a wide range of people to enhance the diversity of our staff.

These commitments to staff will be reflected in the policies we produce.

Additionally, we will continue to develop and implement best practice through the establishment of and support for guidance notes on best practice. The development of these guidance notes will take account of relevant statutory Codes of Practice.

Implementation

Recorra will have policies and procedures that support and uphold this Equal Opportunities Policy. As a result, everyone can expect to be treated with fairness and for judgements to be made that respect their human rights and ensure natural justice. Decisions will be made with integrity following a process based upon transparent criteria.

Recorra will take action to communicate this policy to all staff, volunteers and others e.g. visitors, clients, contractors and suppliers of goods and services involved in its activities. We will continue to develop and implement programmes to ensure that all staff have received appropriate training to enable them to fulfil their responsibilities under this policy.

Consultation with and involvement of a wide range of stakeholders will be essential for ensuring that our equal opportunities policy and practice is effective. We also need to ensure that we gain feedback to ensure that the practical impact of our policy and practice does not result in unintended or unfair discrimination or in consequences that are contrary to the aims of this policy.

Recorra will develop policies, codes of practice and guidance to deal with specific aspects of the implementation of this Policy. These developments will take place against a clear and published action plan.

Policies

Equal Opportunities

Employment

Recorra believes it must recruit the best person for the job and that discrimination prevents this from happening.

Because of past and existing discrimination, some people have missed out on chances to obtain qualifications or gain experience. This in turn can lead to restricted job and training opportunities, and further disadvantage groups already affected by discrimination. This means that some people are not able to compete for jobs on equal terms. Likewise, organisations may have inadvertently developed systems and styles of working which can prevent some people from achieving their full potential.

Recorra's Equal Opportunities Policy is there to assist in the elimination of discrimination and ensure fair treatment for all employees by:

- advertising all jobs in appropriate ways to ensure the widest possible response from all sections of the community
- examining recruitment procedures regularly to ensure people are selected on their abilities and merits
- offering fair terms and conditions of employment to employees
- ensuring facilities and practices are supportive of employees with family responsibilities
- providing equipment and facilities to enable people with a disability to obtain a job or continue working with Recorra.

Training

Training will play an important role in assisting employees to implement Recorra's Equal Opportunities Policy and in developing employees' skills and potential. All staff will receive training on Equalities and Diversity as part of their induction. All managers responsible for recruitment and selection will undertake additional Equalities and Diversity Training.

The purpose of training will be to

- inform employees of the purpose of the Equal Opportunities Policy
- provide employees, especially managers, with the skills and knowledge necessary to implement the policy
- encourage and enhance the skills of employees, particularly those from groups who have traditionally been under-represented in the work force.

Policies

Equal Opportunities

Responsibility

All members of Recorra staff will take responsibility for their actions.

Specifically:

- The overall managerial responsibility for equal opportunities lies with the Managing Director.
- All managers and supervisors are responsible for ensuring that this Equal Opportunities Policy is implemented in their areas of responsibility.
- The Head of People is responsible for taking action in relation to equal opportunities in employment matters, for monitoring the effectiveness of the policy and for ensuring appropriate provision of supportive staff development.
- All employees are responsible for ensuring that they act at all times in a way that is consistent with our equal opportunities policy. Individuals may be personally accountable should any complaint arise or in respect of breaches of policy.
- People not employed by Recorra but who play a part in its activities, e.g. visitors, clients, contractors and suppliers of goods and services will be made aware of our expectation that they will operate within the scope of this policy. We will expect contractors and suppliers to demonstrate their commitment through evidence of their own equal opportunities policy.

Responding to feedback

Recorra is committed to respond positively to constructive criticism and complaint in relation to equal opportunities. We recognise that making complaints and expressing concerns in relation to equal opportunities can be challenging. We will therefore develop specific advice and support to enable staff and volunteers to put forward their concerns effectively.

We will take appropriate action to protect volunteers and staff from discriminatory behaviour by any individual or groups within the organisation, or in the course of their duties. Allegations of discriminatory behaviour on the part of staff will be dealt with under the appropriate disciplinary or grievance procedure.

Dignity at work and harassment

At Recorra we endeavour to create a happy workplace where people feel accepted and comfortable. We therefore require that all our staff to behave professionally at work and give due respect for other people's right to be treated with dignity. If any member of staff is found to be breaching this through harassment or other behaviour likely to threaten others dignity at work then the Grievance and Disciplinary Procedures as set out in the Employment Contracts will apply.

Monitoring

The Head of People will review relevant performance indicators and will make regular reports to the Managing Director. This report will review both progress against the action plan and make appropriate proposals for further development.

Policies

Equal Opportunities

- Equality monitoring will be carried out to measure the effectiveness of the Recorra's Equal Opportunities Policy, to check the policy is working and act as a basis for future plans. Monitoring information will only be used for this purpose and will be treated confidentially.
- We will maintain and review the employment records of all employees in order to monitor the progress of this policy.
- We will monitor recruitment and selection procedures to ensure discrimination is not occurring.

This policy will be reviewed on an annual basis.

Policies

Ethical

Recorra Ltd – ETHICAL POLICY

BACKGROUND

Recorra's code of ethics requires compliance with English law. Our standards go beyond the legal minimum and require a high level of conduct. Recorra's employees are expected to comply with all laws affecting our business, and to act in every respect with honesty, fairness and integrity. The ethical code described should be regarded as more than a set of rules. It is a statement of beliefs that should guide employees' conduct in most situations. You can resolve most ethical questions in your workplace by taking time to consider whether you are acting fairly and honestly towards your fellow employees, the customer, suppliers and general public who rely on our company.

ETHICAL GUIDELINES

Positive Responsibilities

Each Recorra employee has an individual responsibility to deal ethically with our customers and suppliers, fellow employees and the general public. All employees are expected to do more than merely avoid unethical conduct; they must also take the initiative and assume positive responsibilities for quality, honesty and fairness.

Employees are expected to raise ethical concerns and report any actual or suspected ethical misconduct to their line manager or any Director as appropriate. Honesty also requires that employees refuse to participate either actively or passively in any cover-up of such misconduct. Each employee is expected to co-operate fully in any investigation of ethical matters by Recorra. 'Looking the other way' on potential ethical questions is in direct contradiction to Recorra's commitment to honesty and integrity and is not acceptable.

Conflicts of Interest

Employees, their spouses and other close family members are expected to avoid outside interests or activities that could be advanced at the expense of Recorra's interests. Such involvement may divide an employee's loyalty between Recorra and the outside interest and create a potential conflict of interest. Non-Recorra business involvement with a competitor, supplier or customer is strictly prohibited. Such interest could affect an employee's objectivity in the promotion of Recorra interests.

Employees may not work for or provide advice or consulting services to a competitor, supplier or customer. Employees should not run any side business in their free time which will compete with, sell to, or buy from Recorra and should avoid any financial investments in competitors, suppliers or customers, other than nominal investments in public companies.

Receipt of Gifts

Gifts from suppliers, customers or competitors to Recorra employees raise the appearance, if not the reality, of dishonest or unfair dealings. It is Recorra's policy that all business decisions be made impartially and fairly, and not on the basis of gratuities offered to employees. No employee, or any of their family, may solicit or receive favours, gifts, loans or other benefits (including service and discounts as well as material goods) from any supplier, customer or competitor. The only exception to this policy is for casual entertainment or gifts (other than money) of nominal value which are customarily offered to others having a similar relationship with the supplier, customer or competitor. Recorra employees should exercise good judgement in deciding whether to accept a gift of nominal value or casual entertainment and should resolve all doubts and questions in favour of declining to accept the offer.

Policies

Ethical

Use of Recorra Resources

Each of us has a responsibility to use Recorra resources, including time, materials, equipment and proprietary information for Recorra business purposes only and not for personal benefit. Any such personal use, without proper permission, amounts to theft. Recorra property, such as vehicles, equipment and tools, office materials and facilities, are not to be used by employees other than for Recorra purposes. Use of such property in connection with community or employee social or personal activities may be authorised only by your line manager or a member of the Senior Management team.

All employee requests for reimbursement from Recorra whether for travel expenses, entertainment or other business-related items must be legitimate, properly documented and in accordance with policy.

All employees receive Recorra's business and technical information and know-how in trust and are expected to maintain such information in confidence and not disclose or use it other than for Recorra business and for Recorra benefit. This information includes, for example, names of customers, suppliers, employees, manufacturing processes and equipment, plant layout, engineering drawings, product development plans, information systems, business plans, financial and marketing information and all documents and data which relate to such items. All of Recorra's business and technical information and know-how is a part of the value of the Recorra. Employees are expected actively to protect these assets. Persons who use any of this information for their own personal gain or give or sell this information to outsiders will be dismissed and may be subject to prosecution.

Entertainment and Gratuities

Recorra believes that business decisions by its customers should be made solely on the basis of Recorra's quality, service, price and other competitive factors. Gifts and entertainment of nominal value are used to create goodwill with Recorra customers. If they go beyond this and make the customer feel obligated to offer any special consideration to Recorra, they are unacceptable. Recorra's policy is to avoid even the appearance of favouritism based on business entertainment or gratuities.

Employees should exercise good judgement and moderation and should offer gratuities to customers only to the extent they are in accordance with reasonable customs in the marketplace. Special consideration must be given in the case of gifts or entertainment offered to government employees. These rules may also apply to government prime contractors. Where there is any doubt about the standards prevailing, no gifts should be made.

Normal and reasonable entertainment of non-governmental customers and suppliers covered by standard expense account reporting is permissible when not contrary to applicable law or to the non-governmental customer's or supplier's own policy.

Payments to Third Parties

Payments should be made by Recorra to third parties only for services or products properly provided to Recorra. No Recorra employee shall make any direct or indirect payment in the nature of a bribe or payoff to secure or maintain business or for any other purpose to any government employee or the personnel of any customer, supplier or competitor.

Policies

Ethical

In order to avoid even the appearance of improper payments, no payments are to be made by Recorra in cash, other than documented petty cash disbursements. No cheques are to be written to 'cash', 'bearer', or third-party designees of the person entitled to payment. Cash payments may never be made to employees of competitors, suppliers, customers or government agencies.

Payments to employees, agents, consultants or others outside their country of residence are prohibited where they violate the laws of that country.

Marketing Practices

Recorra's policy is to comply with all competition and trade regulation laws and to use only ethical and proper methods to market Recorra products. All Recorra customers will be treated fairly and even-handedly, and no preferential trade terms or other treatment will be extended to any customer in violation of any law. To avoid the appearance of improper action, Recorra absolutely prohibits consultations with competitors regarding prices, customers or territories. Commissions and other payments must be adequately documented and reported to government authorities as required. Advertising must always be in good taste and all claims made in advertisements must be fully supportable.

Environmental Protection

Recorra fully supports the belief that each of us has a responsibility to protect the environment and human health. It is imperative that each Recorra employee accepts responsibility for the observance of laws and regulations governing the protection of the environment and human health. No individual will knowingly buy for use at Recorra, or dispose of, other than in accordance with the law, any chemical or other substance which is illegal. Managers are expected to keep up to date with all relevant laws and regulations concerning the protection of the environment, to seek professional guidance when necessary, and to assure observation of the laws and regulations. Recorra will continue to seek alternatives to hazardous methods, substances or products to assure protection of the environment and personal safety.

Individuals who knowingly violate any environmental law or regulation will be subject to dismissal. Accidental incidents which affect the environment are to be reported immediately to the appropriate outside authorities as well as to senior management.

Responsibilities to Employees

Recorra believes that all of its employees should have a safe workplace and equal opportunities for promotion and advancement. Recorra will comply with all health, safety and equal opportunities legislation and other similar laws and regulations. Recorra is committed to maintaining safe working conditions in all its facilities. Employees are expected to assume individual responsibility for safety procedures, following all necessary precautions, avoiding any activity that might endanger themselves or fellow employees, and notifying supervisors and management of any potentially dangerous conditions in the workplace. Management and supervisors are expected to promptly correct any serious safety hazards and to stop any activity involved until the hazard has been corrected.

Recorra's policy is that all its employees will enjoy a work environment free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is totally unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances or requests for sexual favours and the creation of an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment through unwelcome sexual conversations, advances, jokes or suggestive objects or pictures. Any complaint of sexual harassment will be immediately investigated and appropriate action, which may include dismissal, taken.

Policies

Ethical

Use of Alcohol and Drugs

Recorra is strongly committed to the prevention of illegal activities, and to the protection of its employees, property and the public, from any danger which might result from the use of drugs or alcohol. It is Recorra's policy to provide a safe drug-free and alcohol-free work environment.

In the workplace, drug and alcohol abuse can create hazardous situations, lower productivity and can cause potential problems with third parties with whom Recorra does business. We must ensure we maintain the reputation of Recorra and its people as good, responsible citizens.

Use or possession of illegal drugs or alcohol during working hours or on Recorra premises is strictly forbidden and is cause for discipline up to and including dismissal. Employees reporting to work under the influence of drugs or alcohol are subject to discipline up to and including dismissal.

It is Recorra's policy to provide assistance to employees who seek the Company's help in overcoming any addiction to or dependence upon alcohol or drugs. Volunteering to participate in an employee assistance programme will not necessarily prevent disciplinary action for violations of the policy which have already occurred.

Reporting Practices and Financial Information

Whilst honest differences of opinion are expected, and can indeed be useful in examining all sides of an issue, we must base our action on facts, logic and fair play. We cannot use shaded opinions or distorted facts to justify actions, nor should we allow facts or opinions to be covered up to make a situation look different from what it really is. All reporting at all levels throughout the company must be factual and open.

Recorra's business integrity will be reflected in accurate and complete accounts and records. Employees are responsible for ensuring the accuracy and reliability of Recorra's accounts. Fictitious, improper, deceptive, undisclosed or unrecorded accounts of funds or assets are a serious ethical abuse and illegal. It is Recorra's policy that all accounts and records conform to accepted accounting principles and to all applicable laws and regulations.

All transactions must be accurately documented and accounted for in Recorra's accounts and records. All entries must contain appropriate descriptions of the underlying transactions and no false or deceptive entries shall be made. No employee shall enter into any transaction with the understanding that it is other than as described in the supporting documentation. No employee shall participate in obtaining or creating false invoices, payroll records or other misleading documentation or inventing or using fictitious entities, sales, purchases, services, loans or other financial arrangements for any purpose. Recorra will not maintain or use any anonymous ('numbered') bank account or other account that does not identify Recorra's ownership.

Product Integrity

Strict product integrity is necessary for Recorra to achieve its quality objectives and to maintain its reputation for quality products. It is Recorra's policy never to wilfully conceal defective work or material, falsify records or make false certification or claims regarding its products. In some instances, particularly in connection with government contracts or subcontracts, it is necessary for employees to make specific product certifications, generate records and supply other information or statements concerning product integrity. It is unlawful to intentionally falsify such records for the purpose of misleading or defrauding the government or any other customer.

All employees are responsible for ensuring the integrity of the products under their control and for the accuracy of the documentation supporting the product integrity. Incidents of suspected or known concealment of defective work or material, or falsifications of records are to be immediately reported to management.

Policies

Ethical

Industry Regulation

It is in all employees' interests to make a positive contribution to the reputation of our industry by supporting the industry's education and community relations programmes etc. as appropriate. Employees should also avoid all forms of publicity that will reflect negatively on the industry e.g. by refraining from disparaging or slandering our competitors and their products or services.

APPLICATION OF THE CODE

All employees are expected to be familiar with and to observe the ethical standards outlined in this code. Abuse of Recorra's ethical code may be grounds for dismissal and the abuser could be subject to legal action. Managers are responsible for ensuring the application of this ethical code by monitoring and enforcing the code within their areas. Application of the Code will be one of the performance standards by which all managers will be measured. All of Recorra's managers are expected to lead by example and communicate a real concern for the observance of these ethical guidelines.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

Each of us should take pride in the high standard of conduct that has always identified us as Recorra employees. Let us resolve together to continue to be a company which will tolerate nothing less than complete honesty, fairness and integrity in our dealings with all individuals, social groups, businesses and government institutions that depend on us.

Modern Slavery Statement

Recorra Ltd – MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT

Recorra has a zero-tolerance policy towards slavery and human trafficking and is committed to complying with the provisions in the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

Recorra is controlled by a Board of Directors. The information included in the statement refers to the financial year ending 31st March 2026.

A) ORGANISATION

Recorra was founded by Friends of the Earth in 1988 (as Paper Round), specifically to provide high quality environmental services to offices in London. We have kept this focus on meeting the highest environmental standards as we have grown to offer a complete spectrum of waste management services to businesses in London and the South East. This includes the collection, transportation, processing and recycling of waste materials and equipment and, additionally, the secure collection and destruction of confidential waste products. Recorra also supplies office stationery products, including a wide range of recycled products.

Recorra operates from the following locations:

- Recorra Head Office – London
- Materials Recycling Facility - Essex
- South Coast Recycling Services – Brighton and Hastings, East Sussex

The labour supplied to Recorra in pursuance of its operation is wholly carried out in the United Kingdom. Demand for Recorra's services is consistently high throughout the year and is therefore not seasonal.

B) DEFINITIONS

Recorra considers that modern slavery encompasses:

- Human trafficking
- Forced work, through mental or physical threat
- Being owned or controlled by an employer through mental or physical abuse of the threat of abuse
- Being dehumanised, treated as a commodity or being bought or sold as property
- Being physically constrained or to have restriction placed on freedom of movement

C) COMMITMENT

Recorra acknowledges its responsibilities in relation to tackling modern slavery and commits to complying with the provisions in the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We understand that this requires an ongoing review of both our internal practices in relation to our labour force and, additionally, our supply chains.

Recorra does not enter into business with any other organisation, in the United Kingdom or abroad, which knowingly supports or is found to involve itself in slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour.

Policies

Modern Slavery Statement

No labour provided to Recorra in the pursuance of the provision of its own services is obtained by means of slavery or human trafficking. Recorra strictly adheres to the minimum standards required in relation to its responsibilities under relevant employment legislation in the United Kingdom and in many cases, we exceed those minimums in relation to our employees.

D) SUPPLY CHAINS

We have a zero tolerance policy to slavery and human trafficking and expect all those in our supply chain and contractors to comply with our values.

In order to fulfil our activities, Recorra's main supply chains include those related to the supply of equipment, goods and services from various suppliers in both the United Kingdom and Europe. We understand that for some goods and equipment, Recorra's first-tier suppliers are intermediary traders and therefore have further contractual relationships with lower-tier suppliers.

E) POTENTIAL EXPOSURE

In general, Recorra considers its exposure to slavery/human trafficking to be relatively limited. Nonetheless, we have taken steps to ensure that such practices do not take place within our business, nor within the business of any organisation that supplies goods and/or services to us. Where possible we build long standing relationships with suppliers and make clear our expectations of business behaviour.

F) STEPS

Recorra carries out due diligence processes in relation to ensuring slavery and/or human trafficking does not take place in our organisation or supply chains, including conducting a review of the controls of our suppliers.

Recorra has not, to its knowledge, conducted any business with another organisation which has been found to have involved itself with modern slavery.

In accordance with section 54(4) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015, Recorra has taken the following steps to ensure that modern slavery is not taking place:

- We have transparent recruitment processes which are reviewed regularly, as well as robust procedures in place for the vetting of new employees. We ensure we are able to confirm their identity and that they are paid directly into an appropriate personal bank account.
- To ensure a high level of understanding of the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking in our supply chains and our business, we provide training to relevant members of staff. All Directors have been briefed on the subject.
- We have in place systems to encourage the reporting of concerns and the protection of whistle blowers.

G) KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

Recorra has set the following key performance indicators to measure its effectiveness in ensuring modern slavery is not taking place within Recorra itself, or in its supply chains:

Policies

Modern Slavery Statement

- Use of labour monitoring and payroll systems
- Level of communication and personal contact with the next link in the supply chain and their understanding of, and compliance with, our expectations

In the future we intend to:

- Put further measures in place to identify and assess the potential risks in our supply chains
- Review supplier contracts to include termination powers in the event that the supplier is, or is suspected, to be involved in modern slavery

H) POLICIES

Recorra has the following policies which further define its stance on modern slavery:

- Corporate Social Responsibility Policy
- Ethical Policy
- Sustainable Procurement Policy
- Equal Opportunities Policy
- Quality Policy

I) SLAVERY COMPLIANCE OFFICER

Recorra has a Slavery Compliance Officer, to whom all concerns regarding modern slavery should be addressed, and who will then undertake relevant action with regards to Recorra's obligations in this regard.

This statement is made in pursuance of Section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and will be reviewed for each financial year.

PCI-DSS

Recorra Ltd - PCI-DSS INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY

1. Introduction

This policy provides essential information for everyone tasked with handling credit and debit card data and the systems processing such data within Recorra. It is designed to ensure we can meet the standards required by the Payment Card Industry's Data Security Standard (PCI-DSS), which Recorra is obliged to meet in order to be able to process credit card payments.

2. Scope

All departments/cardholder data environments within Recorra where credit and debit card data is handled.

3. Compliance Requirements

Compliance with this policy is mandatory. Failure to follow this policy will be considered as gross misconduct and may result in disciplinary action, up to and including summary dismissal.

PCI-DSS INFORMATION SECURITY POLICY

1. General

- System users shall not send confidential data, such as credit or debit cardholder data, unencrypted, via end-user messaging technologies such as, e-mail, instant messaging or chat without using an approved encryption solution. Where a solution is not available the data shall not be sent via any of these methods.
- All employees, 3rd parties or contractors shall not attach or use within Recorra cardholder data environments network devices including but not limited to modems, remote-access technologies, wireless technologies, removable electronic media, personal laptops, tablets, PDAs, iPods or personal storage media (e.g. memory sticks).
- Users shall not store confidential data, such as credit and debit cardholder data on local hard drives, floppy disks, or other external or mobile media. If anyone must store confidential data on a hard disk that is not in a securely protected environment, they must report this to the Information Security Manager so that the data can be encrypted with Recorra approved encryption solutions.
- All employees, third parties or contractors are responsible for Recorra assets, particularly confidential data, that they use to carry out their function. Any suspicious activity or suspected breach in security must be immediately report to the Information Security Manager.
- Ensure documents containing credit and debit cardholder data are securely locked away.

2. Credit Card Handling

2.1. Scope

Policies

PCI-DSS

This section provides the minimum mandatory requirements that need to be applied to all employees that handle or come across credit or debit cardholder data, in any format within the Recorra environment. Furthermore, any third party that uses or accesses any of Recorra's credit cardholder data, either physically or logically must also comply with this section. It is not Recorra's intention to hold cardholder data, however, this section outlines what to do if such a situation arises.

2.2. Policy Statements

2.2.1. General

- Failure to protect card data can lead to large fines from banks, expensive investigations and litigation, loss of reputation and potentially the withdrawal of the ability to take payment by credit or debit cards
- No employees should handle cardholder data unless they have explicit authorisation to do so
- Cardholder data should only be handled in such a manner as is explicitly authorised by job roles.

2.2.2. Card Data Definitions and Requirements

- 'Credit Card Data' means most of the information on a Credit Card or Debit Card and includes the long 16 digit card number (Primary Account Number - PAN). It also includes the issue and expiry dates and the cardholder's name. The three digit security code on the back of the card is known as the Card Verification Value (CVV). The PAN must always be encrypted when electronically stored and the Cardholder data, if stored with the PAN must be protected.
- The CVV should be handled with great care and should never be written down or stored anywhere, whether on a piece of paper, a form, in a database, in a spreadsheet or any other electronic format, even if encrypted. The only exception to this is where you are taking a payment and need to store the CVV temporarily (pre-authorisation) whilst you arrange to take the payment. After the transaction has been authorised the CVV data must be destroyed immediately.

2.2.3. Card Data Handling Requirements

- Credit card data should NOT be stored within Recorra
- Credit card data is classified as confidential therefore if credit card data is stored for whatever reason it must be protected. If it is stored in systems, it has to be encrypted. If it is stored on paper, it must be locked away at all times unless in use.
- Do not store credit card data on laptops, desktop computers, file shares, memory sticks, CDs or floppy disks unless these are on approved systems. If in doubt, do not store the data.
- Do not store credit card data in spreadsheets and other office documents, unless specifically required for your work, approved in writing by the Information Security Manager.
- Any card data on Recorra systems must be reported to the Information Security Manager immediately upon discovery.

2.2.4. Printing of Documents Containing Card Data

Policies

PCI-DSS

- There will be no cardholder data within Recorra and therefore there will be no printing of cardholder data. Should cardholder data exist, printing of it is expressly forbidden.

2.2.5. Handling Documents Containing Card Data

- There are cases where card data is legitimately stored on paper. This data needs to be retained only until the systems are back up again and card data can be processed electronically.

2.2.6. Vigilance and Awareness

- Credit card data can be inadvertently left on printers, fax machines, on a desk, on a screen, in a clear email (although this is against the PCI-DSS Data Management Policy), in the 'trash' or 'recycle bin' file on a computer, in a temporary file, memory swap files etc.
- Each employee or contractor is responsible to protect Recorra assets which include all forms of data. It is therefore important that, should you see any credit card data or other confidential data in a place that is insecure, inappropriate or where you do not expect to see it, even if your role includes the ability to work with credit card data you must:
 - a. secure the data, e.g. lock it in your desk,
 - b. report it to your manager and
 - c. report the incident to the Information Security Manager immediately.

3. PCI-DSS Cardholder Data Management

- All physical backup media must be sent via secure transit.
- All data sent externally must be logged and those records retained for a period of 12 months.

- All hard copies of cardholder data must be manually destroyed as soon as it has reached the end of its retention period. A quarterly process must be in place to confirm that all non-electronic cardholder data has been appropriately disposed of in a timely manner.
- Recorra requires that, before they leave Recorra, all hardcopy materials are crosscut shredded so they cannot be reconstructed.
- All cardholder information awaiting destruction must be held in lockable storage containers clearly marked "To Be Shredded" - access to these containers must be restricted.

Use of Computer, Email and Internet

Recorra Ltd – USE OF COMPUTER EQUIPMENT, EMAIL AND INTERNET POLICY

A. USE OF COMPUTER EQUIPMENT

1. Personal use of our computers

Our computers, including laptops, and PDAs, are to be used solely for business purposes, subject to the following exceptions:

You may make reasonable personal use of the Company's computer system and internet connection. You should do this mainly outside of your normal working hours or during your lunch break, in accordance with the terms of this policy. In order to control the use of the Company's computer equipment and reduce the risk of viruses the following will apply:

- a. The introduction of new software must first of all be checked and authorised by a nominated senior member of the Company.
- b. Only authorised staff should have access to the Company's computer equipment.
- c. Only authorised software may be used on any of the Company's computer equipment.
- d. Only software that is used for business applications may be used.
- e. No software may be brought onto or taken from the Company's premises without prior authorisation.
- f. Unauthorised access to the computer network will result in disciplinary action.
- g. Unauthorised copying and/or removal of computer equipment/software will result in disciplinary action. Such actions could lead to dismissal.
- h. Proper care must be taken with Company laptops, data sticks etc when these are taken out of the office for any reason.

B. EMAIL AND INTERNET POLICY

1. Introduction

The purpose of the Internet and email policy is to provide a framework to ensure that there is continuity of procedures in the usage of internet and email within the Company. The internet and email system have established themselves as an important communications facility within the Company and have provided us with contact with professional and academic sources throughout the world. However, they also carry serious risks. Careless use of our email and internet system can have serious consequences. For example, it is possible to create a legally binding contract by exchange of email, or confidential information may be deliberately or accidentally sent to the wrong people.

In addition, misuse of the Internet and emails can introduce viruses into the network, infringe copyright laws and result in the harassment or defamation of others. For these reasons, we have to impose limits on Internet and email use in relation to both business and personal use. Therefore, to ensure that we are able to utilise the system to its optimum we have devised a policy that provides maximum use of the facility whilst ensuring compliance with the legislation throughout.

Use of Computer, Email and Internet

2. Email

The use of the email system is encouraged as appropriate use facilitates efficiency. Used correctly it is a facility that is of assistance to employees. Inappropriate use however causes many problems including distractions, time wasting and legal claims. When sending emails, internally or externally, you should exercise the same care as you would if you were sending a letter on our headed paper.

The procedure sets out the Company's position on the correct use of the email system.

Please note that all Emails sent or received on the Company system may be monitored. Should you wish to send/receive personal Emails of a private and confidential nature you should use your own personal email account.

3. Procedures - Authorised Use

- a. Unauthorised or inappropriate use of the email system may result in disciplinary action which could include summary dismissal.
- b. The email system is available for communication and matters directly concerned with the legitimate business of the Company. Employees using the email system should give particular attention to the following points:
 - i) all comply with Company communication standards.
 - ii) Email messages should be kept concise and copies should only be sent to those for whom they are particularly relevant.
 - iii) Email should not be used as a substitute for face-to-face communication or telephone contact. Abusive mails must not be sent. Hasty messages sent without proper consideration can cause upset, concern or misunderstanding.
 - iv) if email is confidential the user must ensure that the necessary steps are taken to protect confidentiality. The Company will be liable for infringing copyright or any defamatory information that is circulated either within the Company or to external users of the system.
 - v) offers or contracts transmitted by email are as legally binding on the Company as those sent on paper. It is possible to create legally binding contracts without intending to via email correspondence. Email must not be used for communications that could lead to a binding contract being formed or which would have the effect of obligating the Company in any way, unless you have the clear authority to make the commitment in question.

Remember, a typed name at the bottom of an email is the same as a signature on a letter.

- c. The Company will not tolerate the use of the email system for unofficial or inappropriate purposes, including:-
 - i) transmitting copyright information.

Policies

Use of Computer, Email and Internet

- ii) passing on confidential information about other employees, the Company or its customers or suppliers.
- d. You must not send, forward, distribute or retain email messages that contain language that is abusive, aggressive, obscene or offensive. You must not make any improper or discriminatory reference to the protected characteristics of a person when writing emails and must not forward or distribute any material which does so. Protected characteristics are race, religion or belief system, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender-reassignment and disability. Doing so may amount to gross misconduct. A good rule of thumb is to ensure that you never put something in an email that would offend or embarrass any reader or yourself. Always remember that an email might be seen by someone other than the intended recipient.

4. Internet

Where appropriate, duly authorised staff are encouraged to make use of the internet as part of their official and professional activities. Attention must be paid to ensuring that published information has relevance to normal professional activities before material is released in the Company name. Where personal views are expressed a disclaimer stating that this is the case should be clearly added to all correspondence. The intellectual property right and copyright must not be compromised when publishing on the Internet. The availability and variety of information on the Internet has meant that it can be used to obtain material reasonably considered to be offensive. The use of the Internet to access and/or distribute any kind of offensive material, or non-related employment issues, leave an individual liable to disciplinary action which could lead to dismissal.

5. Inappropriate Websites

You must not under any circumstances access inappropriate or offensive websites or distribute or obtain similar material through the Internet or email when using our equipment, even in your own time. Examples of inappropriate or offensive material include racist material; pornography; sexually explicit images, text and related material; the promotion of illegal activity or intolerance of others. Doing so will amount to gross misconduct. In addition, you must not access gambling sites or pirated copyright material.

The Company retains the final decision as to whether it considers particular material to be inappropriate under this policy.

As a general rule, we would regard material to be inappropriate if any person in the Company might be offended by any of the contents or if the Company would be embarrassed if it were known that its software had accessed the particular web pages. If you are unsure whether we would consider particular material to be appropriate, do not access it or distribute it.

If you receive material which contains or you suspect contains inappropriate material or you inadvertently access such material on the Internet, you must immediately report this to your Line Manager. Do not under any circumstances forward the material, show it to anyone else or otherwise distribute it.

Policies

Use of Computer, Email and Internet

6. Virus Protection Procedure

The introduction of a virus into our computer system could be devastating. We have installed antivirus software but this does not guard against all viruses. You should be aware that viruses can be introduced via email attachments, USB memory sticks and the Internet.

In order to prevent the introduction of virus contamination into the software system the following must be observed: -

- a. It is your responsibility to take care when opening email attachments, especially when they are not expected or they are from unknown sources. If you are in any doubt about an attachment, please contact Transpeed who will check whether it is safe to open the attachment. You must never open attachments ending with '.exe' without first obtaining clearance from Transpeed.
- b. You should not install any software that has not been approved or purchased by the Company, nor should you download any material, including games and screen savers, from the Internet or USB memory sticks without first obtaining the approval of Transpeed.

C. SECURITY

You are responsible for the security of the equipment allocated to you and must not allow it to be used by anyone other than in accordance with this policy.

1. Wireless technology

Everyone who has a Company laptop will be advised by Transpeed whether it can be used via wireless technology. This is only allowed if the appropriate security software and encryption are in place.

2. Travelling

Given the amount of confidential information which is accessible on our equipment, you must take sensible precautions when you take laptops and PDAs out of the office. In particular, you must never leave one of our laptops or PDAs on view inside a vehicle. If you have to leave such an item unattended in a vehicle, it must be locked away in the boot or glove compartment. If you are travelling on public transport or are in a public place, keep your laptop or PDA with you at all times or, if this is not possible, in sight. Remember that thieves specifically target laptop-carrying cases.

If you are working in a public place, be aware that other people may be able to read documents that you are working on.

3. Passwords

You should not use another person's password without authorisation and you should not tell anyone (other than Transpeed or your Line Manager) your password, unless there is a pressing business need to do so. You must log out of your computer when you are not using it and when you leave the office. For the avoidance of doubt, on termination of your employment for whatever reason, you must provide details of all your passwords.

Policies

Use of Computer, Email and Internet

4. Email security

It is very easy to send an email to the wrong person. You should be very careful to ensure that the emails you send are correctly addressed, particularly when they contain information that you would not want others to see.

Remember that email is not a secure way of sending information. Emails can be intercepted by third parties and intended recipients can alter and/or forward emails without your knowledge. You should therefore avoid sending by email personal information about individuals or commercially sensitive information.

Remember that deletion from your inbox or archives does not mean that emails are destroyed, and at times we may need to retrieve them. Email messages may be disclosed in legal proceedings in the same way as paper documents.

D. MONITORING COMMUNICATIONS

1. How do we monitor communications?

We log and audit the use of:

- a. telephones, including mobile telephones, and fax machines
- b. computers, laptops and PDAs, including email, Internet and other computer use
- c. personal mobile telephones and landlines if we pay for them or contribute towards their cost

All calls from all extensions and from Company mobile telephones are logged and regularly audited. Auditing software has been installed to monitor email traffic and any Internet sites visited. We keep back-up tapes that record computer usage which are retained for 12 months.

Where we have good reason, we may monitor and record the contents of telephone calls, voicemail messages, faxes, computer files, Internet use and emails sent, received and stored. We will always act within the law. You should also be aware that your emails and voicemails will be checked during times when you are absent from work. Given this, you should not regard either business or personal communications on our facilities as private.

2. Purposes of monitoring

The purposes of such logging, auditing, monitoring and recording are to:

- a. ensure the effective operation of our telecommunications systems and to maintain system security, including the retrieval of lost messages
- b. investigate and detect unauthorised use of the systems in breach of this policy, such as excessive personal use or distribution of inappropriate material
- c. check whether any matters need to be dealt with in your absence
- d. investigate allegations of misconduct, breach of contract, a criminal offence or fraud by the user or a third party
- e. pursue any other legitimate reason relating to the operation of the business

Policies

Use of Computer, Email and Internet

This list is not exhaustive.

The information gathered will only be given to those who need to see it in accordance with these purposes. If information gathered is relevant to any disciplinary action taken, it will be made available to those who are involved in the disciplinary procedure.

It applies to the use of social media for both business and personal purposes, during working hours and in your own time to the extent that it may affect the business of the Company. The policy applies both when the social media is accessed using our Information Systems and also when access using equipment or software belonging to employees or others.

Whilst we recognise the benefits which may be gained from appropriate use of social media, it is also important to be aware that it poses significant risks to our business. 4. Responsible use of social media

You must not use social media in a way that might breach any of our policies, any express or implied contractual obligations, legislation, or regulatory requirements. In particular, use of social media must comply with:

For example, you could state, "the views in this posting do not represent the views of my employer". Remember that you are personally responsible for what you communicate in social media.

If it is unclear where we stand on certain "hot" topics you are obligated to ask the Marketing Manager for clarification before sharing any content on social media. They hold the right to deny any posting or sharing of content of a particular topic if they believe it will publicly oppose the business's position.

Often, materials published will be widely accessible by the public and will remain accessible for a long time. If you are uncertain or concerned about the appropriateness of any statement or posting, you should discuss it with the Marketing Manager before making the post.

5. Monitoring of Social Media Use

It is recommended that all employees use strict privacy settings on their social network profiles.

The organisation monitors your internet usage regularly and may undertake more in depth monitoring where considered necessary. This includes monitoring the websites you visit and any other matters referred to in this policy. This includes monitoring of any additional accounts you may be requested to set up for the purposes of performing your work tasks, which are subject to the same rules as your work email account.
